WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Pvt. Elihu Kearney is still in Amarillo, Texas, and when last heard from was on a detail with three post engineers running a gasoline machine cutting weeds and grass. The tractor is similar to one he used on the chicken ranch here, he says, but is easier to operate.

Pvt. Phil Kearney writes that he has landed on a coral island north of Dutch New Guinea. He says the coral is not the nice pink and lavender color usually pictured in the National Geographic, but sort of a brownish-grey color something like the soil around Truckee. There is less vegetation than he has found in other sections near the equator. He is well again after his wounds and back with his outfit. He sent home quite a jolt of jap currency. It looks like he might have rolled a japanese bank in New Guinea.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barton of Brockway received a cablegram from their son, Cpl. Ray Barton of the medical paratroopers from somewhere in France, saying he was well and happy on July 6, so it looks like he went through the invasion o.k.

Cpl. R. C. Gifford has been transferred from Los Angeles to New York.

AC. Milford A. Peterson is now working hard at the Santa Ana air base. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson lived at Donner Lake while Pete worked on the highway patrol squad here before entering the air corps.

Stuart Pyle, in the navy's V-12 program recently visited his mother Mrs. Anna Pyle at Auburn for 10 days from Marquette University at Wisconsin. The Pyles formerly lived at Tahoe City and Stuart is well known here.

Sgt. Paul Losey writes that he is now in Russia and wants to be remembered to all his local friends. Paul had previously been stationed in England with the air forces.

Fred Morey, Jr., 17 year old son of Fred Morey, former state employe here, is now going through the navy's boot camp at Farragut, Idaho. The Moreys recently moved to Sacramento.

Kenny Foster, a member of the crew of one of the battle ships off the coast of France which took an active part in the invasion, wrote to his mother to report a couple of very busy weeks. Then today we note by the papers that his ship has set a new firing record at Cherbourg, with some accurate 17-mile shooting. Niec work, Kenny.

SALA CREDITED IN SAVING CHILDREN IN NEVADA FIRE

Dan Sala who has a service station on the Purdy highway near Reno, is credited with having saved the lives of six small children and surrounding property, when fire broke out in a nearby gully.

Sala, former Truckee man, called firemen then rushed to smother the flames which threatened to trap the children of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Stubbs, who had left to send a telegram before the fire caught their tent. Nearly two acres burned over before the fire was ocntrolled.

THIS DISTRICT STILL 40 PER CENT SHORT IN WAR BOND QUOTA

Although Truckee and the Donner area are still approximately 40 per cent short of their Fifth War Loan goal, a better showing had been made up to July 8, the date for officially closing the drive, than was reported in many other sections.

Chairman R. N. Little reported than on July 8, the local drive had resulted in the collection of $55,912, of the $89,000 quota set for this immediate area. He again called attention to the fact that all bonds sold during the balance of July will count on the quota.

This area was short only $6,000 in its Series E bonds, a total of $31,612 of this type having been purchased during the drive. Other types totalled $10,500 and allocations to Truckee from outside concerns amounted to $13,800, Little said.

TAHOE NEAR GOAL

TAHOE CITY, July 13.—The Tahoe goal of $61,400 in the Fifth War Loan drive is rapidly being reached, according to Mrs. Harry Johanson, the chairman, who announced Tuesday night that $54,030 worth of bonds have been purchased to the end of the drive period, July 8. All bonds sold during July will count toward the quota.

WYETHIA TEA IS PLANNED AT HOME

Members of the Wyethia Women's Club and their guests will enjoy the second annual silver tea, to be held this year on the lawn of the T. T. Buell residence at Gateway Park on Thursday, July 20 between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock.

Mesdames C. B. White, W. M. Englehart, Annie Tonini and A. P. Leitch will pour. Mrs. W. F. Wilkie will be in charge of table arrangements and Mrs. Wolert will present a program during the afternoon.

SCOUTS PREPARING FOR SUMMER CAMP

Members of the Truckee Troop are expected to participate.

Potato Dealer Is Fined $250 For Faulty Markings

Defendant Files Notice Of Appeal To Higher Court

A. Kasviner, Reno and San Francisco potato buyer, was fined $250 following a trial in the justice court of C. E. Smith here yesterday when he was found guilty of attempting to ship inferior grade potatoes into California graded as U. S. No. 1's. He was charged by the California Department of Agriculture.

Kasviner was arrested when a truck containing 378 bags of Nevada potatoes were found inferior to the specified grade at the state quarantine station near here. Kasviner's defense was that he had no connection with the shipment.

Chief witnesses against him were Thomas Bradshaw, federal and state inspector from Nevada and members of the quarantine station staff.

The defendant announced that he would appeal the judgment of the lower court.

District Attorney Ward Sheldon was in charge of the prosecution for the state and a Sparks attorney represented Kasviner.

DELINQUENT TAX IN COUNTY SMALL

The 1943-1944 delinquent tax roll charged with the uncollected Nevada County taxes for the fiscal year July 1, 1943 to June 30, 1944, amounts to $7,268.59. The May collections were $567.10, and the June collections $1,450.76, which leaves a balance unpaid of $5,250.71 for the fiscal year.

Payment of county taxes now must be made by redemption through the office of the county auditor, R. N. McCormack.

Man Held After Woman Reports Being Kidnapped

Woman Tells Of Being Forced To Surrender Her Car Near Here

Paul Norton, 38, a dishwasher at Lake Tahoe, was being held in jail at Reno this week on federal charges growing out of the alleged kidnapping of Blanche Counter, 42, visitor at Tahoe, whose home is at Sacramento. Norton was arrested Sunday night.

According to the story Mrs. Counter told State Patrolmen William Gautsche and T. F. Sheehan, who were called to the quarantine station Sunday night, she and Norton started out from Tahoe to go to Truckee. They were in her car. Reaching here they decided to drive on to Reno and had reached a spot three miles from that city, Mrs. Counter said, when Norton pulled out a knife and told her to stop and turn the car over to him.

The driver complied and Norton turned the car around and started west, all the while threatening his companion with the knife, the woman declared. Upon reaching the quarantine station, Mrs. Counter leaped out and told the inspectors to hold the car. Norton again turned and drove east, leaving Mrs. Counter at the station.

Gautsche and Sheehan immediately contacted Reno by radio and a few minutes later police there reported the apprehension of Norton.

He was charged with theft of a motor vehicle, but according to Constable N. F. Dolley, who with Sergeant H. B. Fowler, went to Reno to to return Norton here, federal officers had stepped into the picture and placed the more serious kidnapping charge. Dolley said he was informed Norton has a previous prison record.

SIEBOLD WRITES HE IS ANXIOUS TO GET BACK TO TRUCKEE

Robert Siebold, well known former Truckee boy, wrote this week from Consolidated Vultee Aircraft in San Diego asking to be remembered to all his friends and with a hope that the war will soon end so he can return home. Siebold, who regrets the fact that he was rejected for the armed forces, is doing his bit by working hard every day, going to the blood bank when he can and in other ways aiding the war effort.

"You don't know how I miss those Sierra Nevada mountains and Truckee." Siebold wrote.

He expressed his regrets at the news of the loss of Jim Thomas and Ed Waters and added that it seemed uncalled for that they must sacrifiec their lives.

Last winter, Bob declared, his knowledge of skiing came in handy when he and four others from his companny with 10 other skiiers made up a rescue party and carted food and supplies to two rangers marooned in huge drifts 70 miles from San Diego. Bob said it was rugged at times but he was glad to be of service.

by WALTER M. BARRETT

If Truckee expects to regain its old standing as the heart of the greatest recreational area in the world, and it has every right to be just that, we must awaken and get busy. Other similar regions are preparing extensively for the post-war construction period and we are reminded of the need for immediate planning by a letter from the state chamber of commerce, setting forth the reasons, objectives and future need for a constructive post-war planning program for both winter and summer recreational facilities. No one is going to force us to prepare for the future. As a matter of cold fact, we are going to meet competition such as we have never before known. Your local chamber of commerce is ready to act and in some instances has acted, but the support of the public is lacking. Your chamber needs suggestions, outline of activities proposed, workers willing to sacrifice a part of their time and efforts to put over the program and secure the assistance which will be forthcoming only if we work and fight for what is rightly ours. We can no longer sit still and expect the results which have heretofore naturally come to us. It's time for action, now.

With only three members attending your chamber of commerce last week designed and forwarded recommendations for improving the fishing and deer hunting activities in this area to the fish and game division. That was a small step in what we mean. Three members, however, regardless of their sincerity and willingness, are not enough to carry the load. It will take each and every one interested in Truckee's future.

A friend the other day expressed the most charitable thought we have heard for some time when he declared that he was saving more gasoline and tires than he was asked to do under rationing, because "the more the chiselers use, the more I must save for the essential war needs." He is one in a thousand, and you must admire his attitude.

There is still time to buy that extra bond and boost Truckee's Fifth War Loan drive closer to its quota. The united, all-out effort of every American citizen now will aid in ending the war soon. Buy another bond today.

Lt. Jackson, Air Hero, Reported Missing In War

Flier On 49th Mission When Plane Reported As Lost In Europe

With only two missions over Axis Europe remaining before he would have been eligible for a leave to come home, First Lieutenant Thornton H. Jackson, husband of Mrs. Beth Jackson of Truckee, has been reported missing in action over Hungary while on his 49th bombing mission with the famous 15th Army Air Force stationed in Italy.

Only last week the headquarters of his organization released the story that Lt. Jackson had just been awarded the second bronze oak leaf cluster for "meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy."

Lt. Jackson was a navigator with the 15 AAF Liberator bombardment group which had been blasting the Ploesti oil fields, Vienna, Bucharest and Sofia.

While details were not revealed in the war department message, it was quite probable that Jackson may be safe, after parachuting to the ground.

The missing hero is a graduate of the Salinas High School and enlisted in the Army Air Forces on August 26, 1942 and received his commission a year later on August 30, 1943. He was only recently advanced to the rank of first lieutenant.

BROCKWAY, July 13.— A sale of some significance transpired during the past week when Mr. and Mrs. George Seymour sold their home and Seymour's Beach Cottages at Brockway, Lake Tahoe,

NEEDY PAYMENTS IN COUNTY INCREASE

Direct payments for aid to the needy in Nevada County were up 23 per cent for May, 1944, compared with May 1943, California Taxpayers association stated this week, making public its study of the ups and downs in the four kinds of public aid to the needy in California. The total number of persons receiving aid in the county fell off one per cent when the two months were compared.

Biggest share of the increase in the amount of aid given to the needy in the county occurred in the aid to the needy aged, with a 31 per cent increase in total amount of aid paid out and an increase of five per cent in the number of people receiving such relief.

Your Electric Water Heater has a BIG JOB to do—take care of it

Vacations are certain to be curtailed items this summer. There will be added garden and housework to attend to and water sports may be restricted to the bathtub, shower and washing machine.

Which raises this question: "When was the last time you gave your faithful, dependable, hard-working water heater some personal attention and care?"

Summer is the time to attend to your water heater because summer is the time when your household demands its greatest use of hot water. And here is what to do: 1. Drain your water heater tank of sediment. 2. Keep the water heater jacket ship-shape and clean. 3. Touch up chipped paint spots to prevent rust. 4. If special trouble develops call in a service man for a check-up.

TELEVISION STILL FAR OFF

It may be worth while to start saving your money now to buy a new FM radio set after the war to take advantage of the broadcasting which eliminates all static and all interference. But, from what we can learn, there is no hurry about putting money aside for a television set.

Television will expand rapidly after the war, but, because of the complications of broadcasting it, only those people who live within 50 miles of a metropolitan city will be in the range where they will be able to have television programs reach their living rooms. It is estimated that it will be 18 months before any new television broadcasting equipment will be in operation, and that will naturally be installed in the areas where the most people can be reached.

Some experts say it will be ten years at least before television reaches rural America. The people in rural areas will hear a lot about television from now on but, during the next decade, they will probably have to visit their city cousins to see it in operation.

SAVING LIVES IN WARTIME

A recent report on the causes of death from April, 1943, to 1944 shows that, even in wartime, many more people die from diseases and accidents than are killed on the battlefield.

The figures show that during the past year 29.4 out of every 100,000 persons have died as a result of enemy action whereas 192.5 out of 100,000 have died from heart trouble, 109.3 from cancer, 74.0 from cerebral hemorrhage, 69.5 from diseases of the arteries, 53.3 from pneumonia, 53.3 from chronic nephritis, 43.2 from tuberculosis, 33.3 from diabetes and 53.5 from accidents.

All of these causes have proven to be greater enemies to life than the Germans and the Japs.

Although war is a needless waste of life, and we should do everything possible to prevent its recurrence, over the years it is not nearly as hazardous as germs. If we could ever find the answer to wiping out cancer alone it would save many more lives than have ever been lost in any war.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

The temptartion to work a good thing to death appears to be greater in the field of social security legislation today than in anq other phase of the many-pronged drive by pressure groups for public umberellas to protect them from life's rainy days

The war is still far from ended, for the boys who are fighting it, but on the home-front the scramble for post-war benefits—in pigger pensions and increased unemployment insurance allowances—already has started.

California, for example, with the most liberal old age pension in the nation, will be confronted on the November ballot with a new proposal to provide $60 per month for all persons quitting work at 60 years of age.

Whether the state can afford the "60-at-60" pension plan is highly debatable, no matter how desirable it may be to provide generously for the older citizens during their latter years For much of the burden for maintaining such a system would inevitably fall on the young men and women now in the armed forces—at a time when they will be seeking to reestablish themselves in civilan ilfe.

NEW POLICY ON GASOLINE RATION SENT TO BOARDS

A uniform policy to make available to public inquiry the amounts of gasoline rations issued by local war price and rationing boards has been laid down by the Office of Price Administration.

The following instructions were sent to local boards:

It is the established policy of the Office of Price Administration to ration gasoline to neighbors by neighbors within the rules laid down in he regulations. That policy requires he weighing of individual needs in the light of local conditions. The result is the granting of mileage to the ndividual.

It is entirely proper that within the limits of administrative feasibility, persons should be entitled to know the amount of gasoline grantned to others who are asking for a share n the gasoline which belongs to all. While it is neither desirable nor possible to permit discriminate access to the board's records, the amount of mielage granted should be available upon inquiry.

Therefore, in the case of gasoline rations issued after June 30, boards are authorized to give general information on the amount granted.

The policy applies to all types of gasoline rations issued after June 30. Information will be given only as to the amount and type of ration issued to individuals.

House and Home

By MARY E. DAGUE

With gardens demanding our time and energy and canning pushing us to the nth degree, we housewives must make our heads save our heels. Older women who have not borne the brunt of housekeeping for the past years are finding that by careful planning they can accomplish a vast amount of work.

Try to get the strenuous jobs done in the morning—in the cool of the day—and take care of the lighter chores as the heat increases. You may have to get up an hour earlier in the morning to get the work out of the way, but that extra hour in the morning will pay good dividends all day long. However, don't think you can add time in the morning without taking it out in the afternoon. Make out your work schedule so that you will have an extra hour to rest in the afternoon.

Another way to save yourself is to take full advantage of all your electrical equipment. If you have an electric range with a time thermostat learn to use it so that you can have time away from the kitchen. Research workers tell us that thoroughly chilled food will keep in good condition for two hours in the oven before the heat is turned on. Put your dinner in the oven, set your time and temperature controls and go your way rejoicing to know that you will come into the kitchen and find your dinner ready to serve.

One dish meals with a simple salad and dessert are ideal summer dinners. One hot dish is recommended for every meal and a casserole dish of meat and vegetables is easy to prepare and to serve.

Old Mother Nature is very canny and if you serve her foods in their seasons you are going to provide interesting and healthful meals. We need much less heavy food in summer than we do in winter. Light, easily digested menus with plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables —the very foods our gardens and markets are teeming with—make nourishing and pleasant fare.

"Al Fresco" meals are delightful on the porch or in the garden or in any shady spot. If you eat out in the open it's a good idea to spray thoroughly under the chairs and tables and on nearby bushes. This will keep the flys and bugs away long enough for you to enjoy your meal. Use any fly spray available and use it as generously as your conscience will let you. The use of trays will simplify all serving problems. If each member of the family does his share of carrying, meals served out doors contribute greatly to relaxation from nervous tension and pep up the appetite.

There are ever so many varieties of table mats that merely need to be wiped off with a damp cloth to keep them immaculate. Use them in place of linen mats and runners

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

by OPERATIVE WB

If GOP Presidential Nominee Tom Dewey announces his cabinet selections for comparion with Roosevelt's cabinet during the course of his campaign (as friends believe he will), Governor Earl Warren will be offered the post of Attorney General, our spy advises.

..State labor moguls, according to the dope along the political Rialto have started to raise a $400,000 campaign fund to fight that bitterly controversial "right-to-work" amendment.

Not the bans of war, but political censorship, will ilkely bar one of the catchiest tunes of the decade from radio, record and the jute box. Those who have heard it (mainly Democrats) claim that the politically-titled ballad "Don't Change Horses in the Middle of the Stream if You Want to Keep Your Britches Dry", would take the nation by storm—if it weren't banned til after election day. GOP music masters, however, insist the horsey tune is a turkey.
